Dear hiring manager,

RE: Application for a Frontend Software Engineer Job at Jumia.

I am taking this chance to apply for a Frontend software engineer job at Jumia. I found this vacant job listing during my job search online today through job web kenya website.

I am well proficient in HTML5, CSS3, Bootstrap, Javascript and React js. I also do have background experience in figma, material design and material css as my web developer tools in Frontend.

I do also have an active learning mindset for professional growth as a front end web developer through networking and team collaboration through agile methods of work as a web developer.

I am a highly passionate tech enthusiast who loves solving problems that people are facing while getting into the digital world of the internet today.

I am looking forward to joining your company and offering my coding skills, networking skills, soft skills, and team collaboration skills by adding value to your company.

At your most convenient time, I am looking forward to hear from you.

Best regards,

Gichure Maina.
